INTEREST IN PRIMARIESBoth Democrats and Republicans to Hold Elections in Montgomery County Tomorrow.

Special Correspondence of The Star. ROCKVILLE, Md., September 13.—Keen interest is being taken throughout this county in tomorrow's democratic primary election, when candidates for governor, controller of the state treasury, attorney general, clerk of the circuit court, state's attorney, house of delegates, sheriff, register of wills, county commissioners and judges of the orphans' court will be named. Members of the state central committee and several county committeemen also will be chosen.

So far as the contest for the gubernatorial nomination is concerned, there is believed to be little doubt that Senator Blair Lee will carry the county. No organized fight has been made against him, and the general impression is that a count of the votes will show a margin of several hundred in his favor.

Close Contests Forecast.

The contests for the nominations for the various county offices, however, is a very different proposition. The Lee and anti-Lee forces have selected slates and for several weeks the political battle has raged. The leaders of both factions express themselves as confident of the result, but there is good reason to believe that the contests will be very close all along the line.

It is said that a large amount of money has been distributed among the workers, much to the delight of the "rosters," of which there are a very considerable number. Many believe that the contests are so close that the side which is able to use funds the more effectively will win out.

The official ballot contains the names of the following candidates:

For clerk of the circuit court—John Darby Bowman and Preston B. Ray. State's attorney—Albert M. Bulc and Alexander Kilgour.

House of delegates—James N. Barnes.

Residents of this part of the city recently have asked the Commissioners to improve Stanton road, which particularly is in need of improvement, but the District is held to be without authority to spend money for this purpose, inasmuch as taxes are being paid on the streets by private owners.Dedication Necessary.

According to Engineer Commissioner Kutz, if these owners will dedicate the streets to the District the municipality will immediately take steps to put them in good condition. Otherwise, he says, it can do nothing until it has obtained from Congress authority to lay out a system of highways for this section and condemn the necessary land in connection therewith.

District Surveyor Melvin C. Hazen repeatedly in his annual reports has urged the necessity of improving the Barry Farms subdivision. Mr. Hazen and Dr. William C. Woodward, health officer, made a study of health and other conditions in this section. Several bills embodying the recommendation of these officials and the Commissioners have been introduced in Congress, but to no avail.

Commissioner Kutz today said that the situation has become serious and every effort will be made to obtain the necessary legislation for correcting it.

WILL SEEK TO BETTER SOUTHEAST TERRITORYCommissioners Deem Better Highways in Barry Farms Subdivision Are Necessary.

Renewed effort will be made by the District Commissioners at the next session of Congress to obtain legislation for laying out a system of highways in the Barry Farms subdivision in Southeast Washington, south of Anacostia river.

For years the District authorities have endeavored to gain control of the streets in this section in order to improve them. But they have been unable to accomplish this, either by legislation or through private dedication. The streets are privately owned and the Commissioners have been unable to obtain the necessary land in connection therewith.

Club of Lake Boosters Formed.

With the Washington party will be the Oden H. Lake Club, formed for the purpose of boosting the re-election of the present national commander. They will display prominently the fact that Commander Lake has instituted forty new garrisons in the coming two years.

The sessions of the encampment will begin Wednesday forenoon in the armory of the Morris Guard, Atlantic City, and will continue until Friday evening. It is estimated that 350 delegates will be present.

Among the projects to come before the convention will be an endorsement of the policies of President Wilson in the existing international emergencies; a demand for adequate preparation for war; endorsement of the so-called Key bill pensioning widows and dependent children of soldiers, sailors and marines; and a resolution favoring the Keating bill in the interest of veterans of Indian wars, and dependent children of the same.

A measure of local interest will ask that Congress include in the District of Columbia appropriation bill a proviso that former soldiers, sailors and marines be given preference in appointments made in the local police and fire departments. Another resolution will ask that officers of the National Guard be selected so far as practicable from war veterans.

TO REPRESENT DISTRICT ARMY AND NAVY UNIONDelegates to National Encampment Will Leave Tomorrow for Atlantic City.

The District of Columbia delegates to the seventeenth biennial national encampment of the Army and Navy Union will leave this city at 12:40 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for Atlantic City, where the sessions will be held.

The delegation from Washington will include members of the seven local garrisons, thirty-five delegates; the women's auxiliaries and their friends. The Washington contingent will be headed by Gen. H. Oden Lake, national commander, and his staff. The party will occupy a special car, and will be joined at Baltimore by the Maryland delegates and at Philadelphia by a majority of the delegates from Pennsylvania.

It is understood that a majority of the District representatives will support National Commander Lake for re-election, with a view of continuing national headquarters here, where they have been located for nearly two years. It also will be sought to make the office of adjutant general, taxmaster and quartermaster general appointive, with a further view of having these officers at national headquarters. They are now elective.

With the Washington party will be the Oden H. Lake Club, formed for the purpose of boosting the re-election of the present national commander. They will display prominently the fact that Commander Lake has instituted forty new garrisons in the coming two years.

THEODORE T. MOORE DIES AT HIS OFFICEChief of the Telegraph Division of the Weather Bureau Victim of Heart Failure.

Theodore T. Moore, chief of the telegraph division of the weather bureau, died suddenly this morning soon after he had reached his office at the bureau. He was 55 years old.

He left his home at 55 R street northwest this morning and went to his office. He had just entered the room and taken a seat at his desk when he called to J. U. Monroe, who was in the room, that he was unable to get his breath.

Mr. Moore called assistance and Mr. Moore was placed on a couch. He died before medical aid could be summoned.

Wife Overcome by News.

Mrs. Lillie Moore, his wife, and Theodore A. Moore, a son, employed in the Southern railway offices, were notified and arrived at the bureau a short time later. Mrs. Moore was so affected by the death of her husband that a physician was called to the bureau to attend her.

Mr. Moore, who was one of the best known employees of the bureau, was born in Philadelphia February 24, 1860. He entered the weather bureau July 3, 1878, as clerk, when that division was operated under the War Department. He remained continuously in the bureau, and was gradually promoted until he became chief of the telegraph division. He had been a resident of the District for thirty-two years.

Prominent in Masonic Circles.

Mr. Moore was prominent in Masonic circles. He was past master of Hiram Lodge, No. 10, F. A. M., past high priest of Mount Hope Chapter, No. 7, Royal Arch Masons; a member of the Kalliope Grotto, No. 15, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets, and also a member of the Triangle Club of Masons, consisting of employees of the Department of Agriculture who are members of the Masonic fraternity.

Besides his wife, Mr. Moore is survived by five children—Carroll Moore, of Pardee, Idaho; Theodore A. Moore, Mrs. Elsie Linton and Misses Florence and Alice Moore, all of this city. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

IGNORANCE IS BLAMED FOR WORKERS' DEFECTSProper Regard for Personal Hygiene Would Aid Garment Makers, Say Investigators.

A large part of the defects and diseases of garment workers arises from ignorance or neglect of personal hygiene. A proper regard to these principles on the part of the workers would go far in reducing the bad effects of the sedentary indoor occupation upon the health.

This is the conclusion reached by investigators, under the direction of the public health service, studying the effect of industries upon the health of the individual. The report is one of the women's garment industries of New York city during the summer of 1914. The joint board of sanitary control of the industries in question and the various labor unions concerned joined in requesting this study and co-operated in its performance.

The recommendation is made by the investigators that the workers in personal hygiene, especially the correction of visual defects, the formation of correct postural habits and attention to oral hygiene, will do much to rectify these bad conditions. The report points out the necessity for better instruction of school children in personal hygiene and that their postural training shall be insisted upon.

Two thousand women and 1,000 female workers volunteered for careful physical examinations by officers of the public health service. Only about 10 per cent of the total number examined were found free from defect or disease, there being recorded 14,357 defects of all kinds, of which 9,451 were in males and 3,016 females, or an average of 4.36 defects and diseases to each individual examined.

While not all of these were serious defects, many of the conditions noted exercised a deleterious effect upon the individual. An interesting feature of the report is that there were discovered no visual defects peculiar to the garment trades, but this sedentary industry was shown to intensify the defects and diseases of efficiency of certain defects and diseases.

Four women and four children were hurt in an automobile accident near Prossburg, Md., when a car, driven by Mrs. Jacob Miller of Cumberland ran away on the grade on the Borden road near the Western Maryland railroad and tumbled over an embankment.

CUTTER WOODBURY IS SOLD.Delivered to Private Parties, and Is to Be Used for Commerce.

Having completed her days of usefulness in the coast guard, the old cutter Woodbury has been sold to Thomas Butler & Co. of Portland, Me., and is the representative of the Treasury Department, the commanding officer of the new cutter Osage has turned the Woodbury over to her purchasers. It is said she will be fitted up for commercial purposes. The Woodbury, which has been succeeded on the Maine coast by the new cutter Osage, was the oldest vessel of the Treasury Department fleet of cutters and has always been a most efficient ship. She is a wooden hull ship of 500 tons displacement.

As an ice breaker her equal could hardly be found on the Maine coast and throughout the long winters one of her chief duties was to break out vessels caught in ice and to escort them to safe harbors. The cutter Osage, which will take the place of the Woodbury on this work, is a steel hull vessel built with a cutaway bow, especially designed for ice breaking.
